1.0   Background

1.1   Ministry of Electronics& Information Technology (MeitY), Government of India (GoI) is driving the National e-Governance Plan (NeGP) which seeks to create the right governance and institutional mechanisms and implement a number of Mission Mode Projects at the Center & State government. Standards in e Governance are a high priority activity, which will help ensure sharing of information and seamless interoperability of data across e- Governance applications. As a part of this initiative, MeitY constituted a committee under the chairmanship of Joint Secretary, Ministry of Panchayati Raj, Government of India to prepare the domain standards for Panchayati Raj Domain.

1.2   The first draft of the Standards was prepared and circulated among the Committee members for their feedback. This draft was also discussed with State Governments , in particular, State Panchayati Raj Department and State Department of IT through a series of VC sessions. The feedback received from all stake holders has been analyzed and these second draft(v0.2) was prepared. These Second draft was further circulated by e-Gov Standards Division to all DIOs of NIC for their feedback. This final version incorporates all meaningful feedback received from all the people who have contributed in discussions through various modes. This version will now be published in e-Gov Standards portal for public review .It may be noted that the list of entities included in this standard is by no means exhaustive or complete. As with any other Standard, this is also expected to evolve in future as its adoption increases.

2.0   Scope and Purpose to the Document

The scope of this standard is to achieve sematic and syntactic interoperability among e-governance systems and application throughout the country.

This document is intended for e-governance bodies (within or outside the Panchayati Raj domain) to refer and use the entities, data elements and code directories defined in the document pertaining to Panchayati Raj domain, during development or enhancement of e-Governance systems or applications, so that data can be shared seamlessly within the domain or across the domain. This will enable easy exchange, efficient utilization and processing of information by the ministries and departments, which will help in decision making.

3.0   Acknowledgement

This Standard would not have been possible without the active participation and contribution of many people. In particular, sincere thanks are due to all committee members who patiently sat through various presentations of the Standard and gave their valuable input in shaping the Standard. The contribution of State Panchayati Raj Departments was instrumental in ensuring that the variations across States are suitably captured in the Standard. Our sincere thanks to State NIC coordinators who played a key role in conveying and impressing upon the State Panchayati Raj Department about the importance of the Standard and also in guiding the department officials on its various technical aspects. I sincerely acknowledge the support of NIC DIOs whose feedback was crucial in view of their vast field experience. Special thanks are due to the members of Panchayat Informatics Division, NIC who helped in preparing the first draft of the Standard based on their domain knowledge of Panchayati Raj System and also in vetting the final Standard. Special thanks are also due to Shri.D.C.Misra, DDG&HoG, Panchayat Informatics Division who took special interest in the initiation of this work and was a constant source of support in providing guidance at various stages and also in providing various domain-specific and technical inputs.
